

Welcome to the Colorado Indigent Care Program (CICP)

The Colorado Indigent Care Program (CICP) is a discounted health care program for residents of Colorado. Health care providers who participate in the CICP offer discounted health care services to people who qualify for the program.

The CICP health care provider has assigned you a "rating" based on your financial resources. Your rating determined what your CICP "copayment" is. The copayment is the portion of your medical bills under the CICP that you will be responsible for. Payment of the copayment is expected at the time of service, unless you have made other payment arrangements with the CICP Provider.

The CICP is not health insurance and the CICP cannot guarantee benefits. Services must be received by a qualified CICP provider. Available discounted services may be different from provider to provider. If your CICP provider refers you to a non-CICP health care provider for care, you may be responsible for the bill without a discount. Please check with your health care provider before receiving care so that you understand what CICP will cover and what it will not cover.

Please discuss questions about your medical bills and medical care directly with your CICP provider at the following phone number: _____.

Your CICIP provider can enter your copayment amount for health care services in the table, below. Copayments are different for different types of medical care, and your CICIP provider may not offer all types of services. You should ask your CICIP provider about what health care services are available at a discount and which copayment applies.
